

LABOR DISPUTES ACT IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

CONSIDER LOVE AND HATRED IN TODD SLAYING

ALL ANGLES OF MYSTERY BEING INVESTIGATED

Police Chemists Make Tests Of Blood Found On Car

Los Angeles, Dec. 21.—(AP)—The "possibility of jealousy" and of "unrequited love or hatred" must be considered in the mystery death of Thelma Todd, film actress, Deputy District Attorney George Johnson said tonight.

"We must consider the motives of murder," emphasized Johnson, who is to lead the county grand jury's inquiry opening Monday, "and we must bear in mind the intrigues of love, romance and wealth as they might touch upon the life of Miss Todd; we must consider the possibility of jealousy and the further possibilities of unrequited love or hatred."

Jury Foreman George Rochester has advanced the theory the blonde actress might have been the victim of "monoxide murder," although police express the belief her death was accidental. Her body was found in her garage last Monday morning. Police chemists tonight made tests of blood stains found on the running board of Miss Todd's large automobile to determine if the actress might have been struck before her car started to generate carbon monoxide. Results of the test will be given the grand jury.

Tom Carter, district attorney's investigator, said he found the blood stains on the car.

Some of the questions asked tonight by the grand jury were: Did the car start before the slaying? Did the car start after the slaying? Did the car start before the slaying? Did the car start after the slaying?

Rochester said he talked by telephone with Miss Todd's former husband, Paquin, at Cleveland, Ohio, in Smithtown, N. Y., and that the latter agreed to return to assist in the inquiry.

Police chemists tonight made tests of blood stains found on the running board of Miss Todd's large automobile to determine if the actress might have been struck before her car started to generate carbon monoxide. Results of the test will be given the grand jury.

The operative then climbed the 270 steps leading from Miss Todd's sidewalk cafe to the cliff-side garage in which the body was found.

The slippers in the test were more soiled than those of the actress, indicating Miss Todd probably did not make the long climb as some investigators had theorized.

Crash at 200-Mile Speed Kills 11 in England

Ice forming on the wings of the three-engine Belgian airliner burdened it so heavily that it crashed into a hillside at 200-miles-an-hour speed near Tatsfield, Surrey, killing eleven persons in England's worst air disaster. The twisted wreckage of the demolished cockpit and cabin in the foreground indicate the terrific force of the impact, which proved fatal to all aboard. In the darkness it is believed the pilot was unable to see the hillside in time to avoid the crash.

SNOW FLURRIES, MILD WEATHER, ARE PREDICTED

Winter Will Arrive Officially This Afternoon

Chicago, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Winter took a slight "breathing spell" today to suffer fresh decoration for its formal arrival Sunday.

Coming officially at 1:37 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time) tomorrow, it will bring new snow flurries—but generally milder temperatures—to most of the area from the Alleghenies to the Rockies.

Almost the whole report of wintry weather was visited upon the country from ocean to ocean in the first season's premonitory cold wave. Upward of seven deaths attributed to the icy blast which accompanied a zero belt from the Dakotas to New York, and sub-freezing temperatures as far south as northern California, Texas and Florida.

Most of the fatalities were ascribed to icy pavements but Howard H. Hewitt, 61, frozen to death near Hollidaysburg, Pa., when his foot caught in a railroad rail and he was unable to free himself.

The body of an unidentified man, apparently victim of exposure in 14 above cold, was found in St. Louis.

Duluth, Minn., was one of the coldest spots on the map with 23 below. The Siberian readings general in the north west yesterday were replaced by less harsh minimums in most cases, however.

Some of the heaviest snows were reported in eastern United States. Deep drifts in Maryland's hills with a 14 below at Altamont were highspots of the cold wave's reach in that region. New York City shivered in weather of 15 above.

Jack Frost reared down into the Everglades region of Florida and concern was felt in the fruit region after predictions of killing temperatures in the fruit region during the night.

Convict Attorney For Conspiracy

Chicago, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Attorney Julius P. Waitches, 42, was convicted by a jury in criminal court today of conspiracy to procure a forged will disposing of the $100,000 estate of James Thomas Kelly, "West Madison Street Miser."

The jury recommended that Waitches serve a one to five year term in the penitentiary.

Judge John J. Lape said he would hear Waitches' motion for a new trial on Dec. 31. He fixed his bond at $10,000.

When Window Is Broken at "Lab" Its Earthquake

Helena, Mont., Dec. 21.—(AP)—When a window breaks at the laboratory of the Montana livestock and sanitary commission, it's a sure sign of another earthquake—but the quake doesn't break "an 'Bing' does."

The first thing the earth trembles to make a dash for the nearest window and jump through it. "Bing" is marked with jagged cuts about the neck, legs and shoulders as a result of the frequent tremors which damaged Helena recently.

Man Awakens From Four Year Sleep To Enjoy Xmas

Railway Employee Suffering From Shock Began Dozing In 1931

Folkestone, England, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Awakened from a four-year sleep, Victor Cleave said today he and his family would celebrate on Christmas what his friends call his "coming back from the dead."

Cleave, a railway employee who was suffering from shell shock in the world war, began to doze over his meals in 1931.

Then he fell asleep. Doctors unable to rouse him, had to inject nourishment into his body. The beating of his heart was one of the few evidences that he continued to live.

Waking recently, Cleave did not recognize his own children.

"I had no dreams, no thoughts, no feelings," he explained. "The four years have been no more than a blank in my life."

He has returned to his cottage home, after long confinement in a hospital.

Cleave now is 40 years old, but his friends say he seems younger than before his sleep, although his eyes look very tired.

Pretty Patricia Maguire of Oak Park, Ill., has been asleep for nearly four years. She is now thirty years old and twenty-five pounds heavier than when her strange malady developed. She has survived an attack of pneumonia and a minor operation during her long sleep.

Her mother is hoping and praying that she will really awaken Christmas morn. The first Christmas of her illness (1932) Pat slept constantly. Now she has her eyes open from eight to ten hours a day, can follow simple commands written on a slate, but is still far from real consciousness. Medical science has tried every conceivable remedy for her condition—lethal injection.

At Rochester, N. Y., this week Dr. George Packer Berry, professor of bacteriology, and Dr. Jerome T. Sylvester, both of the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry, announced they had successfully propagated the encephalitis virus.

Dr. Berry described their experiments as a "first step," and said that there now remains to be developed a vaccine. Associates of the doctors described their work as a significant development toward combatting "sleeping sickness."

JUDGE MERRILL E. OTIS DECLARES CONGRESS HAS EXCEEDED ITS RIGHTS

REPUBLICANS CAN WIN HOUSE SNELL CLAIMS

Says Party Will Gain 50 Or 60 Seats In Next Congress

By Douglas R. Cornell, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Washington, Dec. 21.—(AP)—A "good chance" for Republicans to win control of the House in the 1936 elections was claimed today by Representative Snell of New York. House G. O. P. leader.

Asserting that he realized it was "foolish to make prognostications," Snell nevertheless said he would be greatly disappointed if his party did not gain 50 or 60 seats in the next Congress.

Then, tilting back in his chair, he added to reporters:

"If conditions keep on turning as they are at the present time, there is a good chance for a Republican House. Remember, many members were elected by small majorities."

"Sentiment changed very rapidly three years ago and it might change just as rapidly in the next six months. You know, people voted against something before."

Snell, still back from the Philippine Islands, dodged a flurry of questions on the probable Republican presidential selection for next year. Neither was he willing to say that President Roosevelt would be re-elected.

Snell said he thought there were more possibilities of electing a Republican House than a Republican president, but advanced no explanation.

Even the loss of sixty seats would leave the Democrats with a comfortable majority. Their total number would drop from 218 to 258, while the Republicans would rise from 104 to 153. The House has seven Progressives and three Farmer-Laborites.

The Republican chairman said there was no question but that the soldier's bonus would be approved, even over a veto. He saw no "party issue" yet in the Townsend-old-age pension movement, although the plan is "getting a pretty good start."

SCIENCE HAS NO RECORD OF STAR OF BETHLEHEM

Astronomers Declare That Star Never Existed

By John L. Bach, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Dr. W. D. MacMillan, mathematical astronomer at the University of Chicago for 30 years, asserted today that science had no record of the star of Bethlehem.

"It is the theme for a beautiful religious legend," he said, "but astronomy agrees the star never existed."

He said there was no data to support a recently advanced hypothesis that the star of Bethlehem might have been a nova or "new star," exploding out of the Milky Way clouds of 1934 like the famous Nova Herulis of 1934.

Professor William Henry Barlow of the American Museum of Natural History in New York, last week ran celestial time backward on his planetarium projector and showed how the Bethlehem star might have been a planetary conjunction. He referred to Saturn, Jupiter and Mars which were close together in B. C.

"Bartlett's idea is without scientific foundation," Dr. MacMillan said, adding, "It's the latest guess about the Biblical star."

"How closely the planets were merged," he said, "no one knows, but one thing is certain—they did not form the star of Bethlehem."

As to the belief that "the wise men were never guided by such a star," Dr. MacMillan declared:

"It is impossible for anyone to follow a star to a given spot. Take for example two men in different cities following the same star. After an hour's traveling both could look up and each say the star was directly above him, yet they would be many miles apart."

Santa Claus Has Hard Time in Big City of New York

New York, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Santa Claus, 48, Marshall, Mo., minister, arrived in New York for a radio appearance to be greeted by various persons there as follows:

A newspaperman to whom Mr. Claus announced on the telephone "I'm Santa Claus." "Sure, sure, I'm Halle Selassie."

A bank teller where he tried to cash a check. "Take it over there to Mr. Lydia Pinkham."

Mr. Claus' comment after these rebuffs: "I'm glad now I didn't name any of my children Santa."

HORNER WILL ASK FDR FOR RELIEF GRANT

Says Illinois Still Has Over 206,960 Unemployed

Chicago, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Governor Henry Horner said here today that he would leave tomorrow for Washington to confer with President Roosevelt Monday about a $2,000,000 federal grant to avoid an Illinois relief crisis in January.

The governor declared that if federal money cannot be obtained to supplement state funds he would ask for an allotment of more work progress administration jobs to lessen the relief load.

He said that 130,000 families are on the relief rolls, instead of the 65,000 which was estimated would have to be cared for after WPA and the public works administration began functioning.

"I am going to tell the president the position Illinois is in," the governor said. "I think the state is doing very well to be able to provide $2,000,000 (40 per cent) of the January budget."

He added that Illinois' relief problem would be solved if WPA would put 265,000 employables, who have gone on relief since Nov. 1, to work.

Ralph H. Burke, deputy Illinois administrator of WPA, said that 206,960 employables have been assigned to jobs out of 245,000 certificates from the Illinois emergency relief commission.

Welfare Director A. L. Bowen estimated that the old age pension bill adopted at Springfield recently would take approximately 38,797 off the relief rolls, but probably not until after January. A survey in 11 southern counties, he said, showed that 21 per cent of the relief clients, or 1,679 persons, are over 65 years of age.

In those 24th district counties, Bowen said, "there are 13,704 persons who had registered for employment. Of that number 808, or 6.5 per cent, were over 65 years old."

German Farmers Face Death If Rules Violated

Cannot Withhold Milk From Market Or Sell Inferior Product

By A. D. Stefferd, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

Berlin, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Possible death or imprisonment was threatened today to farmers failing to observe Nazi milk marketing regulations.

One peasant already has been taken into protective custody as a warning.

Producers withholding milk from the market, or selling milk whose butter fat is too low, were admonished through the official news bureau that this constitutes "treason against the people's nourishment and, therefore against the people of the Fatherland."

Punishment for treason may be deportation or varying prison sentences.

The News Bureau added "whoever tacitly, or openly resists the regulations or transgresses against public order and security, x x x secret police will therefore proceed determinedly on the basis of instructions against those disregarding current needs or disobeying the orders of institutions (the Reich Nutritive Guild), established by the administration for the common good."

INJUNCTION IS GRANTED FLOUR MILL

Firm Had Refused To Bargain With Union Of Employees

Kansas City, Dec. 21.—(AP)—The Wagner labor disputes act, New Deal measure giving employees the right to organize and bargain collectively without company interference, was held unconstitutional tonight by Federal Judge Merrill E. Otis.

The opinion was the first federal court ruling on the legality of the law enacted by the last Congress.

Judge Otis granted the Majestic Flour Mills of Aurora, Mo., a temporary injunction against a national labor relation board complaint which cited it for alleged refusal to bargain a wage and hour agreement with a union of its employees.

Declaring Congress had exceeded its constitutional right to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several states x x x the judge said, "the conclusion is that the whole act is unconstitutional."

At times caustic in his criticism of the act which President Roosevelt described as an "important step toward the achievement of just and peaceful labor relations in industry," Judge Otis said it treated the individual as a "recently emancipated slave."

The act gives employees the right to organize unions to carry on wage and hour negotiations. It prohibits employers from interfering with the formation of such unions and created the labor relations board to mediate disputes growing out of contracts between labor and employers.

In asking the injunction the mill pleaded the citation by the labor board laid it and its officers open to punishment by a $5,000 fine, imprisonment for one year, or both.

The ruling was made as the United States Supreme Court considered cases testing constitutionality of the Tennessee Valley Act, AAA and the Bankhead cotton production control law all important New Deal legislation.

Judge Otis said the heart of the Wagner Act was contained in a single sentence of section 10: "The (labor relations) board is empowered, as hereinafter provided, to prevent any person from engaging in unfair practice (listed in section 8) affecting commerce."

Holding that the Aurora Mills' dispute with its employees had no direct bearing on the "stream of commerce," Judge Otis declared, "congress has no power to regulate that which merely affects commerce x x x there is no way in which any of the specified unfair labor practices in any business, whether mill or mine or factory or store, conceivably can direct affect x x commerce."

The injunction suit here arose when the regional labor relations board ordered officials of the mill to appear at a hearing in Springfield, Mo., to answer to a complaint which grew out of prolonged disputes with employees.

The board accused the mill of refusing to bargain collectively with its organized workers and charged the company with the "offense" of dealing with said employees individually.

In his opinion, Judge Otis said the mill "is a relatively small establishment x x x and is engaged exclusively in manufacturing which x x x is a local business. Yet the clear intent of the national labor relations act is to subject the relations between employers and employees in even small intra-state institutions to the control of the executive branch of the national government."

He said the act deals with an individual employee "as an incompetent. He is the ward of the United States to be cared for by his guardian even as if he were a member of an uncivilized tribe of Indians or a recently emancipated slave, x x x"

Referring to a resolution to amend the constitution now pending in the congressional committee on the judiciary, Judge Otis said the proposed amendment would give congress power to "regulate commerce, business, industry, finance, banking, insurance, manufactures, transportation, agriculture and the production of natural resources."

DIES FROM EXPOSURE

Salt Lake City, Dec. 21.—(AP)—The undead body of a woman found on a residential street here today was identified as Mrs. Amelia Kilmer, 63. Police said she apparently wandered from a sanitarium where she had been receiving treatment and died from exposure.

Among the Markham shoppers here yesterday was Mrs. Harry Killam.

FORMAL EVENING GOWNS LOOK MORE LUXURIOUS THAN EVER

Dinner Dresses
Serve For Lesser
Occasions

BELOW: Heavy black crepe fashion this rich evening gown by Patou. It is high waisted, slit at the front of the skirt and trimmed with flowers and leaves at the back.

BY JEAN PATOU
Written for NEA Service

PARIS.—Two types of evening gowns figure today in a woman's wardrobe—the informal cocktail or dinner ensemble, essentially practical, necessarily simple, with trimming visible only when the coat or jacket is shed, and the formal evening gown, offering all the sumptuousness of fabric and intricacies of cut denied the former.

Women attending glittering social functions in luxurious surroundings have demanded clothes to harmonize with their surroundings. Hence a number of models in my mid-season collection achieve a degree of luxury new to the eye because abandoned for so many years.

Garishness Avoided
Luxuriousness, however, is never synonymous with garishness and glitter. The new formal evening dress derives splendor in the beauty of its fabric and intricacy of cut.

A gown of black sheer has an exaggerated décolleté, held up in front by drapery, one side of which fastens at the front of the skirt to form a train. A huge red rose is the only note of color.

Plain, conservative fabrics, such as crepe or chiffon, can provide all the formality desired if properly treated. I have used a dull crepe tulle in a model which, at first glance, is extremely simple, but where formality is introduced in the skirt and the décolleté. The skirt features a draped effect which starts in front and continues in a long train looped up at the back over the right shoulder, crosses the décolleté in front where it is fastened at the throat with a huge red rose and continues over the other shoulder where it falls in graceful folds. The entirely denuded back, only permissible in formal dress, is thus partly veiled.

Shirring on Skirt
Another plain crepe model has a

Rich Appearance
Linked To Intricacy of Cut

BELOW: Patou uses warp-designed taffeta in multi-colored effect to fashion this formal gown for important evenings. The wing revers and strap trimming are of tulle velvet.

V-shaped fichu décolleté in front attached to a high double-pointed belt which forms the bodice and tiny hip-yoke. The skirt is shirred to the yoke at the front in an intricate design which supplies a draped movement and the back shows a graduated godet panel forming a train. At the base of the décolleté at the back two huge modern flowers in yellow and orange with wing-like leaves introduce both the originality and color note.

A third style, just as sumptuous but quite different, features a wide, flowing skirt attached to a diminutive bodice. This is fashioned of a new taffeta, warp-printed, which imparts an entirely different surface, almost iridescent. Such a medium necessitates no embellishment, and the winged effect on the bodice is simply outlined in richly-colored velvet which also forms the two broad straps at the back that end in a butterfly

Christmas Holidays

The time we think most of doing for others.

Many of our most happy remembrances are the years when we gave a Savings & Loan account to some member of the family as our Christmas gift.

In January forty eight thousand dollars will be paid to members who have shares maturing. Many of them were given as Christmas Gifts—and how acceptable they will be.

Chandlerville Girl Wins Newspapers' Contest for Agents

The big Subscription Contest for Jacksonville Journal and Chandlerville Courier Suburban Agents is over! The winner of first prize is a girl—Miss Budella Force of Chandlerville.

Inheriting the Jacksonville Morning Journal route from her brother, Miss Force started giving the Journal readers at Chandlerville some of the finest service they ever have enjoyed. Not content with merely "carrying" the newspapers, the young lady has built herself an excellent route of subscribers.

When the Journal and Courier Company announced the contest for suburban agents, Budella got busy. She let her friends and neighbors know that she was in the contest to win. And she did, a nice cash prize right before Christmas.

Robert Glovers of Beardstown had similar ideas about who was going to win the contest. He got a nice list of new subscribers, lacking only a few points of first honors and has been awarded second.

Third place in the contest was shared by Julian Baggerly, Waverly, and Amol Greer, Greenfield, both energetic and hustling representatives of the Journal and Courier in their respective towns.

Ends Successful Contest

Some of the contestants reported that "everyone is taking the Jacksonville papers here," and did not have a large field in which to work.

Extra cash is finding in the pockets of many of the boys and girls who competed in the contest. The Journal and Courier representatives include both boys and girls, and some of the best agents are the latter. Subscribers in the suburban towns get their Journals and Couriers almost as soon as the home edition goes to press. The newspapers are routed to the towns by truck, and the agents are waiting to distribute the copies to customers.

The contest just closed was one of the most successful ever held in the suburban field by the Journal and Courier. All contestants worked hard; those who did not win special prizes have enlarged their routes.

The complete results of the contest are:

How They Finished
First—Budella Force, Chandlerville
Second—Robert Glovers, Beardstown

Third—Julian Baggerly of Waverly, and Amol Greer of Greenfield tied.
Fourth—Kathleen Clayton, Franklin.
Fifth—John Wade of Meredosia, John Sellers, Jr. of Alsey and Ed Ridings of White Hall tied.

Sixth—Robert Kindred of Alexander and Lee Cumby of Glasgow tied.
Others who were entered in the contest: Jane Collins of Bluffs, William Jan Schock of Carrollton, Wanda Adams of Chapin, George Powers of Manchester, John Tendick of Murrayville, Jack Alred of Roodhouse, Raymond Steelman of Winchester, Irene and Evelyn Smith of Woodson, Charles E. Ham of Arenzville, Raymond Hymes of Ashland, Charles Hundley of Concord, and Jack Devlin of Virginia.

CHANDLERVILLE
Miss Budella Force of Chandlerville won first prize in the Journal and Courier Suburban Agent Circulation Contest. Miss Force took over the Journal route last June from her brother Russell. Since assuming this responsibility Miss Budella has done very well in the newspaper business, increasing the list of her subscribers and giving them good delivery service. Her success in the contest is evidence of her interest and zeal.

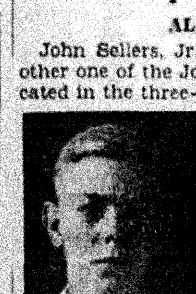

BUDELLA FORCE
Chandlerville

MEREDOSIA
Fifth Place in the Contest was especially hard fought. Three of the Journal and Courier agents tying for fifth place prizes.

John Wade of Meredosia, whose picture is shown in this paragraph was one of those tied for this position. John worked his Meredosia territory vigorously and turned in a nice number of new subscriptions during the contest. The trouble for John was the fact that two other agents had the same idea and turned in an amount of business which tied fifth place up at three all.

JOHN WADE
Meredosia

ALSEY
John Sellers, Jr. of Alsey was another one of the Journal agents implicated in the three-way tie up for fifth place. Money John has been interested in the Alsey route for a number of months and already had a commendable list of subscribers before the contest started. However, that fact did not prevent Junior Sellers from getting into the fray with both feet. He worked diligently and sent in a number of new customers. Junior's friends in Alsey realize that they are getting the Jacksonville Journal delivered to their door at the same hour the citizens in Jacksonville get theirs and they appreciate good service and an up-to-date newspaper which covers the actual happenings of their home community. Junior's field is served no differently than the other suburban territory of the Journal and Courier.

JOHN SELLERS, JR.
Alsey

WHITE HALL
Ed Ridings of White Hall was the other member of the trio tied for fifth place. Ed is another of our veterans in point of service and like Greer of Greenfield can always be counted upon to do his best in a contest and be among the winners at the finish. Ed was another of our agents who made a trip to Chicago some months ago to take in the Fair or see a World's Series ball game, we forget which. Anyway he went to Chicago as a guest of the Journal and Courier and enjoyed the trip. Ed carries the Journal in the mornings and then delivers Couriers to other White Hall residents in the afternoons. He is one of our best agents and efficiently serves his customers.

EDW. RIDINGS
White Hall

BEARDSTOWN
Robert Glovers of Beardstown, winner of second place in the contest is a Senior in High School there. He is interested in all the various school activities and yet has time to devote to his Journal route and to his customers thereon. He writes that the picture is the only one he has at the present time, the picture he had taken for the School Annual not yet having been returned by the Staff. He wrote further "I hope I will be lucky enough to win one of the prizes because I sure could use it as Christmas is drawing near." He was "lucky" enough to win second money because he is a hard worker and a real Journal salesman.

WAVERLY
Julian Baggerly of Waverly tied with Amol Greer of Greenfield for third place in the contest. Julian is a real go-getter when it comes to securing Journal subscriptions and is very much interested in his route and in giving his subscribers good early delivery service. The Journal office knows just how interested Julian is in receiving his papers because whenever there is a delay in getting his papers Julian is right on the telephone calling to find out the reason and wanting to know when his Journals are going to arrive. He has called the Box out of bed several mornings between five and six o'clock in months past and he gets results even if he has to go to headquarters to do it. Julian is a fine type of Journal carrier.

ALEXANDER
The honors for sixth place were also tied up. Robert Kindred of Alexander being one of the agents winning this position. Bob has a rather limited area to serve and cannot be expected to have quite so many customers as some of the agents living in larger towns but he has a good list in Alexander, in fact it seems that he serves every house in town. He must do so judging by the number of Journals which he receives and delivers each morning.

ROBERT KINDRED
Alexander

GLASGOW
Lee Cumby of Glasgow tied Kindred of Alexander for sixth place money. Lee is one of the newer agents for the Journal and since assuming his duties a number of months ago has done a fine job of serving his customers and acting as field agent for the Jacksonville Journal in Glasgow. While the Journal and Courier did not anticipate so many ties as a result of this contest it has tried to meet the situation fairly by awarding each contestant the full amount of each place prize money. In other words, the two contestants who were tied for third place were each awarded the full amount of the prize, the three who tied for fifth place were treated likewise, and the two just named who tied for sixth were paid the same way.

LEE CUMBY

CHAPIN
Wanda Adams of Chapin was another contestant listed by the Journal and Courier but who was unable to place in the prize money. Like Bob Kindred of Alexander she has the town sold on Jacksonville papers and there isn't much opportunity of chance to get any "new" subscribers. Wanda carries Couriers each afternoon to Chapin people. Those who do not take the Courier from Wanda are Morning Journal subscribers and so she is at quite a disadvantage in such a contest as this one which just closed. She is a good carrier and serves her customers well.

WANDA ADAMS
Chapin

BLUFFS
Jane Collins of Bluffs is another Courier agent who is faced with a similar situation as that at Alexander, Franklin, Woodson, Murrayville, Manchester, and Chapin. Jane wrote to us soon after this contest started and said she would like to win some of the prize money but that she had secured so many subscribers during previous contests that there was no additional newspaper business left to solicit. At that time she wrote: "You keep writing me about new customers. I think it is impossible to get any more new ones as we have ninety-seven now. We got so many new ones from our last contest that it will be impossible for any more. I'll keep on trying tho, and if I can possibly get more I'll let you know." Like our agents in other places Jane does her best for herself, her customers, and the newspaper.

Shows Winning Form Again

 Recovery of the form that carried him to national honors several years ago carried Horton Smith of Chicago into the headlines again after a long period of obscurity when he set the sizzling pace of 133 for the first thirty-six holes of the $10,000 Miami-Biltmore open golf tournament at Coral Gables, Fla. He is pictured as he drove off the 17th tee on his second sub-par round.

ly, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fraser and daughters, Virginia and Connie, drove to Alton from White Hall, to attend the party. Others present beside Mrs.
 Hess, were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kes-sie and daughter, Bonna Mae, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Henson, and son, Billy Ray of Alton. Guinea fowl and dressing and all the accompaniments formed the menu for the supper served.
 Mrs. A. R. Jarman and sons, Russel and Jimmie will leave Sunday morning to drive to Memphis, Tennessee, to spend the Christmas holidays with her sister, Mrs. Stella Wallace, and after the holidays will drive on to Miami, Florida, where they will stay

 Committees Preparing for Big Christmas Party; Santa
 to Distribute Treat
 Members of the Elks lodge, assisted by a committee of ladies, are getting ready for the big Christmas party for some 350 children of the city to be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon.
 Members of the committee worked today getting the tree in place and the decorations up. The treat for the children has also been sacked and prepared.
 Members of the lodge with cars will call for the children at their homes and return them when the party is ended. The Salvation Army is caring for a hundred children to get them to and from the party. Chairs have been arranged in the big lodge room for the seating of the guests during the entertainment that has been planned for them.
 There will be several acts of vaudeville, a magician from St. Louis, and carol singing on the program. Santa Claus will appear in person and distribute the treat, which will consist of candy, nuts and fruit and a present for each child.

Illinois had a championship team without a good offensive line. We had a championship basketball team on a suitable basketball court on our campus. If you are going to operate this way, perhaps you should junk our football field and use another one, provided of course that some of these coaches are that good.

District Meeting Is First Move In Corn-Hog Program

Morgan Representatives To Attend Rushville Session

First among the steps which will be taken in placing the new two-year corn-hog adjustment program into operation in Morgan county will be a district meeting on December 23 at Rushville, according to Wallace Hembrough, president of the Morgan County Corn-Hog Control Association.

Four county representatives who will attend the district meet include Farm Adviser W. F. Coolidge, president Wallace Hembrough, Edwin Aufdenkamp and Chas. R. Gibson. The main purpose of this meeting and the nine others being held in Illinois during the period of December 20 to 23 is to get the details of the new program out to county workers before the holidays, according to the extension service, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. District meetings will be held at Dixon, Pontiac and Belleville, December 20; Galesburg, Charleston and Marion, December 21; and Geneva, Taylorville, Quincy and Rushville, December 23.

While built along the same general lines as the 1935 corn-hog program, the 1936-37 plan has a number of new features which will require explanation before the contracts can be signed and put into effect. Important among these features is the appraisal plan which has replaced the historical method in fixing a production base for the contract signer.

This new method of determining bases has been put into the new program as a means of arriving at production figures more in line with the farmer's ability and the size and productive qualities of the farm under average conditions.

Methods by which date will be collected for the appraisal as well as some factors which will need to be considered in making the appraisal will be explained during the district meeting.

Instructions also will be given on the general procedure which will be necessary in giving the facts to producers and in getting applications, work sheets and contracts filled out and signed.

As soon as the Morgan county representatives return from the district meeting, it is expected that plans will be made for the holding of a county educational meeting for all community and county workers.

"You left me just to go off and talk to a lot of doctors about some thing?" Dana had asked in a slight, aggrieved tone.

"It wasn't an ordinary conference," Scott explained. He had been called in by a group of physicians on a case of blood poisoning, or "septic" infection.

"But I still can't see why you had to be called from the dance," Dana had persisted. "Wouldn't the next day have done as well?"

"The patient was Dr. Osborne's wife," Scott answered slowly. "Oh," Dana said, "that's different."

She had felt mean and small when Scott replied sternly, "If it had been the scrubwoman in our building I'd have gone just the same, Dana."

Mrs. Osborne was improving, taking sun baths now, and everybody said that Dr. Osborne credited Scott with turning the tide of her illness.

Scott had joined the local medical association and, tonight, was away attending a meeting of the county group 50 miles distant.

Dana had felt mildly excited that afternoon when Grace Richardson called and invited them to a dinner party. When Grace learned Scott was away, she insisted that Dana must come anyway.

"Just because your husband is out of town is no reason why you should play lonesome lady at home Dana."

"No," Dana said finally, "I suppose not. It isn't much fun."

"That means I can count on you to complete the party," Grace said. "I'll send somebody to pick you up."

"I'm celebrating an anniversary without Scott!"

"Goodness, have you been married a whole year?"

Dana laughed. "Only seven months, but we usually celebrate by partying on the 22nd. Scott has been dear about observing the day."

It happened that the evening session of the one-day medical meeting had scarcely opened when Scott's memory stirred. He glanced at his watch. Seven, and today was the 22nd. Dana was at home. Poor kid, she had sat at home a lot of evenings lately.

Unobtrusively he left the hall, got into his car and drove off. With good luck and no blowouts, he should walk in and surprise Dana by 8:30.

Then he decided to drop by the office, telephone and round up a bunch. They'd all drop in together and make the surprise bigger and more complete.

The 60 intervening miles were covered without mishap, and Scott let himself into his office and got busy on the phone. Several of the fourth call Scott was disgusted, almost ready to call it a night and start for home. As a final effort he called the Richardsons and asked for Bill.

After a moment Bill answered. "Why, hello, Scott. Thought you were out of town at a medical meeting. Don't tell me you were allibling on your wife!"

"Nothing of the sort," Scott replied. "I was at the meeting, got bored and drove in. It happens to be our anniversary, old man—well, a kind of anniversary. I thought I would surprise Dana by getting up a party and dropping in on her. May I count on you and Grace?"

Bill was chuckling. He was, judging from the sounds at the other end of the telephone, more than ordinarily amused. "You say you wanted to surprise Dana?"

"What's so funny about that?" "Keep your shirt on. It happens that Dana's right here, at a dinner we're giving. We were sorry you were out of town. Can't you come on over? We can always put in an extra plate."

"No thanks, Bill."

So Dana was at the Richardsons at a dinner party. Having a great time. Not lonely at all.

May Abandon Carrollton CCC Camp Is Rumor

Transfer Of Men Planned
For January 15
Is Report

Carrollton, Dec. 21.—The most of the people in this section were much surprised this week when a rumor was started that Camp H. T. Rainey, No. 7684, C.C.C., located in this city, was to be abandoned. While nothing definite has yet been given out, Lieutenant J. V. Rathbone, who is in command at the camp, has admitted that he has information to that effect, although he has received no definite orders and no reasons have been assigned for the contemplated abandonment. He states that the officers and men in the camp now numbering 168, will be transferred to other camps.

The unofficial rumor is that the transfer will be made about January 15, 1936. That this news came as a surprise is putting it light for it was generally thought that the camp was to be one of the permanent camps of this state. This camp was established in the southern part of this city in July, 1934. A contract was let in August of that year for sixteen permanent buildings at a price of $21,250.00. Several other buildings, have since been erected, a rugged stone entrance and fences built, equipment installed and all together over $40,000 spent on buildings and equipments.

At one time he had under his command at the camp over 300 enlisted men. A few months ago the camp was made district headquarters, and Colonel Dedi was located here to have supervision over eight camps in this district.

The Carrollton fire department was called to the home of Mrs. Nancy Hussey at 10 p. m. Friday, where a fire was burning out and threatening to set fire to the roof. No damage was done.

Guests of Mrs. Howard Burns and Mrs. Paul Hardcastle for the holidays are Mrs. Elizabeth Simpson and sons, Donald and Burns, of Medicine Lodge, Kansas, Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Hamilton of Robinson.

Mrs. Ritchie Landis of Chicago, who has been in a Springfield hospital recovering from serious injuries sustained in an automobile accident several weeks ago, was brought here this week to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nelson. Pioneers Of 1812 Are Discussed At Meeting Saturday

Carl E. Robinson Speaker At U. S. Daughters Of 1812 Meeting

"Let us hope that the sturdiness and self reliance of the pioneers of the 1812 period may be retained to uphold the foundations of our state and nation," declared Carl E. Robinson in a talk before the Francis Scott Key chapter, U. S. Daughters of 1812, at the regular meeting of the society held at the American Legion Home Saturday afternoon.

The meeting was opened by the president, Miss Carolyn G. Taft, who welcomed the guests and presided during the program. Following the reading of the minutes, Mrs. Lewis Sims, read a letter from the president, national, Mrs. Francis Weinmann, who is also an honorary member of the local chapter, congratulating the society upon the splendid record of marking the graves of the veterans of 1812 and those of the Real Daughters. This work has been directed by Mrs. Henry Wm. English, state chairman of grave markings.

The musical program was given by Miss Betty Leach who sang "A Spirit Flower" and "Sing, Smile, Slumber," accompanied by Mrs. Lewis Sims.

Mr. Robinson in his presentation of the subject, "Customs and Characteristics of the 1812 Period," said that this generation is often prone to forget the past. The constitution did not come to use on a "silver platter." A glimpse of the world and Illinois at this period shows us that Europe was in war, Napoleon was in power. In the United States Madison was elected president in 1808. In 1812 this country was getting ready to fight under the leadership of Madison.

"There were no railroads in Illinois, no telegraph communications, home made furniture was used, there were no silks, no calico, no schools except private ones, until 1825. Illinois College was founded in 1829, the oldest college in the state.

"The pioneers held religious meetings, but were not organized and therefore there were no churches. The Baptist and Methodist denominations were first to have churches. Peter Cartwright was a powerful preacher of those times and Dr. John Ellis, one of the founders of Illinois College, was a Presbyterian minister of influence.

"Great narrowness existed between the denominations and later churches came. Meager means of communication prevailed and mail was delivered by stage coach, horse back and by foot. Very few physicians and no local government marked the period. The population was about 15,000 and mostly in the southern part. The dangers from the Potomac Indians were grave and pioneers from Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee possessed innate ability to meet hardships which surrounded them. They were famous riflemen and lived close to nature, getting their food from wild game and fruits, and wood for homes and fuel from the forests.

The speaker contrasted the sturdy characters of the pioneers with the people of today and asked the question: "With all our advantages are we better?" In the last analysis, said the speaker, strong personal character should be the aim of our civilization. Let us hope it will not be blotted out. These men possessed it and should be honored for it.

A social hour followed the interesting program, with Mrs. M. J. Black as hostess. The next meeting will be January 24, in Springfield, as guests of the Sangamon chapter.

Carroll Wright has gone to Kansas to spend the Christmas holidays with his sister, Mrs. Ted Alexander and family.

Miss Sue Finn of Hoxington, Kans., arrived Saturday to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Finn.

Miss Mary Devlin, linotype operator at the Gazette office, has been a patient at St. John's hospital in Springfield for several days, where she is undergoing treatment.

Among those to attend the Virginia-Indiana basketball game at Industry Friday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin McDonald, Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Snow, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Colburn, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Whitfield, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Crutt and son, C. R. Wilson, Herman Widmayer, Henry Geo. McDonald, Albert Yowell, Dorothy Graves, Judy Davis, Jane and Ann Yowell, Elizabeth and Louis Graves, Gene Clark, Wm. Mullen, Glen McDowell, Lawrence Dooling.

Mrs. C. G. Colburn and son, Billie, Misses Jo Crum, Mae Edwards and Elizabeth Graves were among the Saturday visitors in Springfield.

Flames Damage Residence On E. State Street

Roof Burned. Two Rooms
Charred By Blaze
Last Night

Quick work by members of the Jacksonville fire department saved the 14-room duplex residence of J. A. DeSollar, 601 East State street from destruction last night. Firemen believe that the blaze started from a spark from the chimney.

A passing motorist discovered the fire and sent a call to the fire department. He then notified Ernest Strawn who occupies the east apartment. Mr. Strawn was in the living room of his residence reading and was unaware that the house was in flames.

The flames licked their way thru the roof and into two back upstairs rooms and were burning briskly when the firemen arrived. A line of hose was quickly laid and the flames were confined to two rooms. A large hole was burned in the roof and the ceilings of the two rooms were badly charred. There was some water damage to the furniture on the lower floor.

The firemen also received a call early last night to the J. W. Larson cleaning establishment in the American Bankers building, when a Christmas tree caught fire. The tree was pulled out of the window and the fire extinguished before the arrival of the fire department. There was no damage to the building or contents, the fire being confined to the small Christmas tree.

Morgan Lake is Frozen; Skaters Make Appearance

Several skaters appeared on the frozen surface of Morgan lake Saturday afternoon. Park Superintendent F. A. Robinson reported that the lake appears to be safe for skating, but said he would not advise skaters to venture on Mauvauister lake, as there appeared to be open water in the center.

However, Morgan lake is apparently frozen solid, and the ice is believed to be about three inches thick. Doubtless many will want to go skating today, and it so they should find Morgan lake a good place to try out their best pigeon-wings and figure eights.
